“Every member a minister...through service”

DECEMBER 2, 2012

“Two nations are in your womb, and two peoples from within you will be separated; one people will be stronger than the other, and the older will serve the younger.”

Genesis 25:23

Encouragement and Counseling Ministry

Our expectations over the holidays are greatly varied due to personal, family and cultural experiences. Some focus on “preparing and gathering for the feast,” some enjoy playing games that involves challenge and wit, while others plan and participate in adventurous and recreational events such as taking a cruise, snow skiing or hunting.

Conversations during the holidays generally have themes. Some family and/or group members want to catch-up on “what everyone has been doing” since their last meeting which may include arts and crafts, educational endeavors, financial and/or political perspectives, spiritual and relationship growth. Some members enjoy “going where ever the conversation leads” while others are careful and avoid any areas that may be controversial.

All of us know, that developing a “shared language” and shared experiences over the course of time are important. This is particularly true when children and new family members join our gatherings. There is one “ingredient” that needs to flavor all of our holiday interactions. God has indicated that we need to “compete to show honor.”
