Story:

Telling Our Past,
Living in the Present,
Hope of Our Future
with Jesus

If a “Story” is defined as a character who wants something and overcomes conflict to get it, God is a master storyteller.

History is full of God’s people living into the story of creation and redemption, and Jesus is the focal point.

From the seemingly small everyday actions of our lives to the grand life changing moments where choices define future hope, our stories have meaning. Jesus (God incarnate) is the revelation that God’s story is intricately connected with the story of our lives as He has welcomed our stories to be intertwined with His.

To put it simply, it is this: God loves you and is interested in being a part of the story you are living. He did this by being so willing to engage in the conflict of sin separating from His story that He entered into our stories by “becoming flesh and making His dwelling among us” (John 1:14). How will you choose to live into the hope of a better story with Him?

“The truth is, if what we choose to do with our lives won’t make a story meaningful, it won’t make a life meaningful either.” – Donald Miller

“The beginning of the gospel (good news story) of Jesus Christ, the Son of God...” – Mark 1:1

So many others have tried their hand at putting together a story of the wonderful harvest of Scripture and history that took place among us, using reports handed down by the original eyewitnesses who served this Word with their very lives. Since I have investigated all the reports in close detail, starting from the story’s beginning, I decided to write it all to you...

Luke 1:1-3 – The Message

Happy New Year!

Did you make any New Year's Resolutions?? How about any spiritual resolutions? I never seem to be here around New Year's because of the National Conference on Youth Ministry. This year is no different. The conference starts tomorrow, but this year I did get to go with my family!! I am super excited to learn new ideas and tools to bring back for our youth ministry programs at Rocketdyne!

A special thanks to Kael Powers for teaching our Bible Class this Sunday! Next week I will have a special announcement about our next "in person" event for Senior Youth!! So stayed tuned.

Wishing you and your family a very happy and healthy 2021 as we continue to learn about the Story of Jesus and what He has in store for us all! Zac
