Writing Resumes

Writing a resume is an art form. It requires thoughtful brush strokes of one's life in order to illustrate the beauty of who you are and what you have done. It's the art of not displaying weaknesses, nor is it a history of the times you have accidentally spilled ink on the canvas of your life. Your resume is your presentation of who you are, but just the pretty side.

If you had to write a resume to enter the Kingdom of Heaven, what would you write about? Would you record the times that you helped someone on the side of the road? Would you bullet point your accomplishments? What color would the paper be and what font would you use?

Would anything you put on your resume be worthy of God?

I believe there is something that can be put on our resumes that makes us worthy of a relationship with God. That is the blood of Jesus and the seal of the Spirit. Eph 1:13-14
